Rev. Father Albert Stroebele Leaves to Recover His Health.

Rev. Father Albert Stroebele, rector of St. Augustin's colored church at Fourteenth and Broadway, who during the past ten months has done so much toward bringing life into the colored mission, has been granted one year's leave of absence from the diocese, which he will spend at the Sanitarium Bellevue at Butler, N. J., where he hopes to recover his former good health, which has recently become seriously impaired. During his pastorate Father Albert has endeavored himself to every member of his congregation, who hope for his speedy recovery and return to St. Augustin's.

James Moore, of 1847 Tyler avenue, who was injured some time ago, has almost recovered and will soon be able to resume his regular position with Robinson-Pettit Company. His friends were glad to see him at the meeting of his division this week.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Great interest is being taken in the establishment of the basket-making industry in Ireland.

Thomas Phelan, Coroner for South Monaghan, died September 5 at Blackrock, Dundalk.

It is announced that Parliament has confirmed an order of the Local Government Board permanently constituting the Corporation of Belfast the port sanitary authority.

Martin Lavan, who has held the clerkship of the Portunus Council for over a third of a century, has been granted an increase of salary in recognition of his valuable services.

According to the report of the Registrar General, during the last fifty-two years about 2,000,000 acres which were formerly under grain have gone out of cultivation in Ireland.

The death took place on Tuesday, September 5, in the ninety-third year of his age and seventieth of his ministry, of the Rev. John B. Meehan, late parish priest of Croagh, County Limerick.

Councillor T. D. Pyle has been nominated by the City Corporation to act as Mayor of Dublin for the year 1900. He was opposed by Alderman Dowd, the Labor candidate, who was defeated by only one vote.

A destructive fire came near destroying the residence of George Cooney at Mountainpole, two miles from Kells. The blaze originated in a hay shed and spread rapidly to other outbuildings, 200 tons of hay being consumed.

At a recent meeting of the Athlone Guardians it was unanimously agreed that the Local Government Board should be called upon to hold a sworn inquiry into the cause of Mrs. Pate being admitted into the Athlone hospital.

At the adjourned quarterly meeting of the North Tipperary County Council, held in Nenagh, under the Presidency of Patrick Fogarty, a resolution was adopted putting in force throughout Roscrea district the provisions of the Irish education act.

The Fethard, County Tipperary, petty sessions were adjourned last week in consequence of the death of Clement J. Carroll, of Rocklaw, who was for many years a Magistrate of the county, and who was an ardent sportsman and an exceedingly hospitable gentleman.

At the Drogheda petty sessions Thomas McLea, publican, was prosecuted by John Walsh, bailiff, for assault while executing a civil bill decree. From the evidence it appeared that defendant struck the bailiff on the head with a mallet. Defendant admitted the assault and was fined.

Early on Friday morning a young man named Kavanagh, who resided at Collingtree road, Belfast, committed suicide by jumping from the Queen's bridge into the River Lagan. Several persons witnessed the occurrence and endeavored to save the unfortunate man, but without success.

Mr. Talbot Crosbie, of Ardara Abbey, near Tralee, has just passed away at the ripe old age of eighty-three. The deceased was best known in connection with his famous breed of Shorthorns. It is over fifty years since he formed his first herd, and ever since then it has been increasing in quality and fame.

The Limerick carters and hackney car drivers are up in opposition against a scheme to lay down goods and passengers by electric tramways through the city, and a large deputation of the men waited on the Mayor at the Town Hall to ask him to influence the Corporation to refuse their sanction to the project.

The complaint is universal that both the barley and oats crops are extremely light in Kildare and Queen's counties. In parts of Queen's county land which last year gave nineteen barrels of oats to the acre has this year only yielded eleven. Potatoes, turnips and mangolds are a magnificent crop, while fruit of every description promises an abundant yield.

Moyness church was solemnly dedicated on Sunday, September 9, by the Most Rev. Dr. Hoare, Lord Bishop of Ardagh and Clonmacnoise. The church will supply a want long felt by the people of the district, who for many years have been obliged to hear mass in an old house almost in ruins. The dedication sermon was preached by the Very Rev. Father Austin.

Major Fair, Local Government Board Inspector, held an inquiry in the boardroom, Longford Union, preparatory to proceeding with a scheme for the erection of laborers' cottages. There was a large attendance of Councillors and the general public. There were twenty-five representations considered and it is thought that of these about twenty will be sanctioned.

On Sunday, September 10, and following days a bazaar in aid of the Catholic church of St. Mullin, of which the Rev. Father Davis is the esteemed pastor, was held in the handsome grounds of Gormanstown Castle, kindly given on the occasion by the Right Hon. Lord Viscount Gormanstown. A great deal of attractions and amusements were provided for visitors.

William Murphy, a large former residing at Garrynisk, was found dead recently in his own house. The deceased was a bachelor and lived alone. At the Coroner's inquest Patrick Kinless, a neighbor, who dropped in during the evening to see Mr. Murphy, found the deceased lying dead in the chair, with his head thrown back. The verdict was that death was due to peritonitis.

At the meeting of the Athlone Guardians the resolution of the Wexford Union dealing with the question of old age pensions was submitted for approval. The resolution was to the effect that the time had arrived when Parliament should introduce some practical scheme for the benefit of aged members of the agricultural and laboring classes. No action was taken on the resolution.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Vice President Joe Lynch was missed from his chair Wednesday evening.

Division 4 is going right ahead and admitting new members at every meeting.

Several long-time absentees were present at the meeting of Division 1 Tuesday evening.

With Dan Harnedy's transfer card went the best wishes of the members of Division 4.

Patrick Gillen, of Covington, was admitted to membership in Division 1 Tuesday evening.

The Young Men's Division will shortly announce the manner in which they will celebrate Thanksgiving.

The Hibernians will all turn out in the great parade Monday week. They will assemble at Hibernian Hall.

The First Division of Bridgeport, Conn., has appointed a committee to make arrangements for its annual fair.

There was a splendid meeting of Division 4 Wednesday night. John Doran and P. Lehand were elected members.

Joseph Dougherty was initiated a member of Division 1 at its meeting this week. The ceremony was the best yet exhibited under the new form.

The Hibernian Knights of the East are all resuming active drilling. Capt. Joe Breen and Lieut. Hallahan will soon begin putting their men through.

Now that the evenings are pleasant there should be a great increase in the attendance at the meetings of Division 3 Turn out next Wednesday night.

Division 6 will meet Tuesday evening. Every member should be present. Matters of great importance to the young men will be introduced for consideration.

The Third Division of Bridgeport, Conn., will celebrate its eighth anniversary October 10 with an entertainment, with State, county and division officers as guests.

The St. Paul and Minneapolis papers make special mention of the "fine appearance of the Hibernians" in the recent great German Catholic parade in the former city.

Martin Higgins, John Shaughnessy and James Burke were the three swells in a great cake walk at the Irish dance that occurred Wednesday evening at the Fifth Avenue Hall.

Division 1 of Nashville last week gave a very pleasant outing, dance and euchre party at Glendale Park. A large number of invitations had been sent out and a select crowd was present.

A lively contest is on between the members of Division 1 of Duluth, Minn., for a gold prize of $10 to the one procuring the largest number of members between now and January 1.

Division 1 of St. Paul, Minn., will hold an open meeting and entertainment October 18. According to reports in the Irish Standard large numbers are being initiated at each meeting of Divisions 1, 4 and 9.

Nearly one hundred women were present at a meeting held at Fall River, Mass., last Sunday week to join a ladies' auxiliary. Addresses were delivered by State and county officers, after which Mary E. McDonald was elected President.

The Hibernian Rifles of Providence and a detachment of the Hibernian Knights made a very imposing appearance on the occasion of their recent excursion to Newport. The weather was all that could be desired, and the Visitor says the steamer Bay Queen never carried a happier crowd.

The mass meeting recently held at Columbia Theater by Divisions 4 and 10, of North Adams, Mass., was very large. W. H. Barrett introduced Rev. J. Fallon, of Williamstown, as the presiding officer. Father Fallon is the spiritual director of the order in Berkshire county. John A. Ryan, of Boston, made the principal speech. Among other things he said: "We are hearing a great deal about the Anglo-Saxon these days, but the Anglo-Saxon is not all. This nation is not all Anglo-Saxon by any means. All nationalities have coalesced here. England has ever been a helper of the nation. We can afford to let her work out her own destiny, and we will work out ours. I say to McKinley and to all other Government officials, let no greed for power lead us to wrong any man or to make war on those who have never wronged us."

The Hibernians of Suffolk county, Mass., tendered a testimonial to the Rev. Charles F. Donahue, of St. Thomas' parish, Jamaica Plain, on the eve of his departure for a well earned vacation. Father Donahue is State chaplain of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Previous to the exercises in the hall a parade was held through several of the streets. At the conclusion of the parade the exercises were opened in the hall, which was crowded to the doors. Thomas Lally, Vice President of Division 15, Jamaica Plain, presided. Mr. Lally spoke of the feeling of love toward Father Donahue which actuated those gathered before him. He introduced as the first speaker County President William J. Cronin. It was his pleasant duty to present to Father Donahue a purse of money as a slight token of their esteem. Among the other speakers were Hon. John R. Murphy, Representative Minton and Patrick J. Hannon, State Secretary.

One of the best "mouse scarers" is the foliage of the walnut tree. When traps are useless the above is most successful, and for those to whom such leaves are obtainable there need be no more worry about those annoying little animals. Even after the foliage has been dried it is still effectual in driving them away. On the continent, where country folk bury such vegetables as turnips, carrots, celery, etc., for winter use, a layer of the above keeps the mice away.

Pay up for the past year and the next.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

A number of Mike Hickey's friends showed congratulations upon him Thursday evening, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. The surprise was most complete, but Mrs. Hickey entertained with a bounteous supper.
